What Would You Give for Good Eye-sight?

One of the most marvelous mechanisms of the old or modern age is that in the human eye. It is impossible to realize how much this gift means to us until we have lost it. One might get some idea of what life might be like without our eyes by blindfolding yourself and trying to grope around for a couple of days. Yet this is only make-believe, because you know that you can see again by simply pulling off the obstruction.

Many people have been suddenly plunged into everlasting darkness by accident—many have been blind since birth. We feel sorry for them. We say that we would rather be dead than be blind. We say too many meaningless things and let it go at that. Are we really sorry? Sorry enough to do something about it? What can you do? There are two things that you do not do well enough.

First, and most important, you can take care of the good eyes God gave you. Few individuals, few families or few institutions make adequate provisions to prevent ruining the perfect vision most of us were given. Poor lighting arrangements are gradually breaking down good eyesight. We do too much reading and other tedious and eyestraining jobs. This is part of our civilization but proper education and proper application of what we know will do much to prolong perfect vision. Regular visits to your optometrist can help a great deal but too few people take advantage of this service. Guards and screens and other protection around machinery could save thousands of eyes that are needlessly lost every year. Every man, woman and child can do much more to prevent loss of eyesight—do your part.

The second thing everyone can do is be of more help to those who have already lost their sight. Life can be made desirable and pleasant and useful by careful schooling and help. The Seeing-Eye Dog has opened up a whole new world to many hundreds of sightless people. The White Cane has done much to help people recognize and help the blind without embarrassing them.

One of the major projects of Lionsism is the care of the blind. Hundreds of projects are carried out each year by Lion Clubs all over the country. Your own local Club has a continuous plan to check the eye-sight of every school child several times during the school career. We have provided glasses for many boys and girls whose parents found it difficult to do. In a few weeks the Committee will again be in our schools to do what they can to aid in the preservation of good eyesight. We ask you to co-operate with them and follow up their lead.

There is another great institution in our province that is giving full time and energy to help the blind. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind has organized a school to educate the blind so that they may be more independent. They teach them to make many useful articles for sale and many have learned to earn a living. One project is the making of mud mats for your doorstep—the blind make all the mats you see that are constructed of old tires. Many more and really beautiful things are made and if you ever have the opportunity, stop by at the Insti-

House Warming to be Held at Taber Factory

A General Reception, Inspection and House Warming will be held at the opening of the new Taber Sugar Factory on Tuesday, September 12.

E. J. Maynard, General Consultant of the Great Western Sugar Co. of Denver, Colorado, will be the guest speaker, his subject being, "The Value of Sugar Beet By-products".

A tour of interesting fields will commence from the highway just east of Chin Lake at 2:30 and will continue until about 4:30 when supervised groups will be shown through the plant.

At 6:30 the Factory inspection will culminate in the Dried Pulp Warehouse with an interesting program including Mr. Maynard's address, musical numbers and luncheon. Dancing in the Warehouse will top off the evening.

Souvenirs of the plant will be distributed.

Dr. and Mrs. Harris Walker had as their guests last week her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Russell of Lethbridge; her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cutler and three sons of Nelson B. C.; her cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willard E. Dye and two children from Idaho Falls. Mr. Dye is the second counsellor in the Idaho Falls Temple Presidency.

In our list of teachers for the Public School a few weeks ago we inadvertently left Miss Mona Palmer's name off the list. She will teach a mixed grade of one and two this year.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary Take Notice

There will be a meeting of the Auxiliary on Monday, September 11, at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall. A bazaar is being planned and material's are on hand to be given out. We are appealing to all members, and all others eligible to belong to the Auxiliary, to attend. We need your support. Our membership fee is $1 a year, this includes the badge, copy of the Constitution etc. We have accomplished a lot in the past year but there is still a lot to be done.

There are still some pie plates at the Hall from the 1st of July belonging to some of our generous friends who forgot to put their names on the plates. The Hall is open every Monday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. if you wish to call for them.

Mrs. Fern Thompson, Sec.

Leonard Christensen and Ross King have returned from a business trip in Edmonton concerning the new Raymond-Welling highway.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Cameron of Salt Lake City were recent guests at the I. B. Roberts home. While here they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts to Banff for a short visit. Mr. Cameron is Mrs. Roberts' brother.

tute and marvel at the work done by sightless people.

How sorry are you? Do you sympathize with them enough to get on the band wagon and really do what you can to help the blind in our country? Do you?

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haas and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haas of Medicine Hat were dinner guests at the Alma Sommerfeldt home on Sunday.

The Joseph Nilssons to Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nilsson will celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Thursday, September the fourteenth, in the Opera House, from four until seven o'clock in the afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to their many friends.

Weddings

Schaalje - Allred

The beautifully decorated Relief Society Room in the Stake House was the scene of an early evening wedding on Monday, September 4th, when Erma June, daughter of Mrs. June Allred, became the bride of Mr. John Schaalje, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaalje of Lethbridge. Bishop William Jensen performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Emma Dahl played the Wedding March as the radiant bride entered on the arm of her brother, Carl, who gave her in marriage. The bride chose a lovely gown of traditional white satin with the scalloped yoke and short sleeves being of lace, as well as the elbow length gloves. Her finger tip veil misted from a cornet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. Mrs. Louie Allred, Matron of Honor wore a gown of pink taffeta, and the Bridesmaids, Beth Pierce, Audrey Zwack and Jean Cooper, were gowned in blue taffeta, pink taffeta and blue frosted nylon, respectively. They each carried a nosegay made up of dainty flowers. Little Marolyn Low was the Flower Girl. The Bride's mother wore a black crepe dress with pink inserts and Mrs. Schaalje a tan net dress. They both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The Groom's brother, George Schaalje acted as Best Man, and the guests were ushered in by Norman Allred Kenneth Restall, George Erickson and William Pierce. During the signing of the Register, Evelyn Melchin sang the beautiful song, "I'll Walk Beside You".

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the flower adorned Recreation Hall with Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Paxman welcoming the guests, and Colleen Ralph and Doris Helgeson presiding over the gift table. Bonnie Paxman was in charge of the Guest Book and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Salmon and Mrs. George Erickson acted as hosts. The Bride's Table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake which was flanked by pink tapers and low vases of flowers. Assisting in the serving of the delicious lunch were Janet Turner, Dorothy Flexhaug, Carma, Della and Katie Paxman, Alice Stevens, and Donna Christensen.

In the Raymond Closed Golf Tournament Winston Shaw and Athol Cooper defeated Heber Allen and Jim Bridge in the first of a series of 19-hole matches played at the Henderson course in Lethbridge and are now slated to play challengers Ken and Doris Stone. The winner of this flight has already been challenged by a pair from the Quality Market staff. This is a wonderful country, football, golf and hockey all at the same time.

Pre-Nuptial Shower

Friday evening at the Stake House Bonnie Fawns, Bride-elect, was honored with a shower by many of her friends in town. Her sister Vivian was in charge of the Guest Book, and June Anderson, Alton Christenson and Joyce Phillips received and arranged the many lovely and useful gifts.

Anne Turner was the capable Master of Ceremonies for the program which followed. Jeanine Jensen sang a beautiful rendition of "The Brown Bird", and little Cynthia Hague in appropriate costume, recited "Dusty Dan The Hobo Man". A lulling piano duet by Norma and Nadine Meldrum was followed by a Skit presented by Thespians Colleen and Inez Christensen. "Last Night The Nightengale Woke Me" was sung as a lovely duet by Mary Stone and Eunice Snow. Shirley Allen played a rippling selection on the piano which was followed by another Skit by Inez and Colleen, and another humorous story by Cynthia Hague.

A very tasty lunch was served.

The teachers and School Board got off to a good start this year by having a business meeting on the first day of school to iron out any wrinkles or problems. A very commendable idea say we.

Third Ward Mothers and Daughters Honored

The party for the Third Ward Mothers and Daughters was held on the Stake House lawn last Thursday evening.

Games were played followed by an interesting program consisting of a duet by Nellie Rudd and Doris Court, a reading by Mrs. Zetella Taylor, a vocal solo by Jeanine Jensen, a reading by Betty Watson and a vocal solo by Evelyn Melchin.

A toast to Mothers was given by Gertrude Anderson followed by a chorus of young girls singing "Mother". Mrs. Phoebe Dahl fittingly responded with a few remarks about daughters.

A delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Geo. Wood are very happy to have their son Woodruff, who is perhaps better known as Bud, home visiting with them for a few days before going back to his studies in Eugene, Oregon where he is studying Architecture.

Returned Missionary Party

The Taylor stake Returned Missionary Group was host to the Lethbridge and Alberta Stake Groups recently at the Magrath Pot Hole where a Hamburger Fry and program were thoroughly enjoyed by hosts and guests alike, about seventy-five in all.

The program, with Reid Zemp as Master of Ceremonies, got underway with some community singing lead by Beth Bridge. Pres. and Mrs. Uresenback, who were the head of the Eastern Canadian Mission for a number of years spoke briefly. They were followed by a skit presented by B. Paxman and Joyce Phillips, a member of the Alberta Stake sang a Maori Love Song. Della Paxman sang a solo in her usual pleasing manner and Joyce Harris of Lethbridge concluded the entertainment with a humorous reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Fromm and family of Great Falls spent the Labor Day week-end here visiting relatives and friends.

Funeral Services for Corrine Baker

Funeral services for Corrine, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Baker were held at the Stake House on Friday afternoon, September first, with Bishop Floyd Wilde of Welling conducting.

The Choir from Welling under the direction of Roy Bullock, sang the hymn "Guide Me To Thee". The opening prayer was offered by Mirza Pack after which the Choir sang "Sometime We Will Understand". Ralph Walker spoke with great feeling on "Life and the Resurrection", and Mrs. Jeanine Jensen sang a solo "Brahms Lullabye". Roi Stone played an organ solo, "He Knows" after which Melvin King spoke words of consolation and encouragement. Frank Taylor, Ira McBride, Paul Redd and Delbert Oler rendered the beautiful song "Hold My Hand". Bishop Wilde spoke briefly and on behalf of the family thanked all who had helped in anyway. Murray Wilde offered the closing Prayer.

The Welling Relief society ladies were in charge of the many beautiful flowers. Pallbearers were Corrine's uncles; Howard Rasmussen, Claude Baker, Bryan Baker and Evan Jensen. The grave was dedicated by Bishop Snow.

She is survived by her parents, one brother, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Baker and Mr. Mrs. George Rasmussen.

Mrs. C. C. Gellatly and daughter Kay of Ladner, B.C., formerly of Dundee, Scotland, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Low for a few days.

The Misses Miralda, Elsie, Lucille and Nadine Brown and Mrs. Ruby Holland spent Thursday in Lethbridge guests of Mrs. Jack Brown. The afternoon was spent quilting and a lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Mary E. Lund and a few of her children and their families met at Waterton recently for a family reunion. Those there were Clark Lund and family from Rosemary; Frank Kenny and family from Taber; Miss Delores Schinnour from Picture Butte, Art Lund and family from Milk River and Wilford Meldrum, and family Jerry Kenney and Arlene Ralph from Raymond.

A wonderful time was enjoyed by all, boating, fishing and mountain climbing.

Capitol Theatre News

This week we take only enough space to tell you a little about an outstanding motion picture—Sunset Boulevard. This film brings back to the screen one of Hollywood's all-time personalities—Gloria Swanson. Teamed with her in a show that will thrill you to the very core is Wm. Holden in the role of a young writer who gets himself involved with Miss Swanson, or, as she is known in the picture, Norma Desmond. "Sunset Boulevard" also brings back some famous faces of yesteryear, C. B. DeMille, Hedda Hopper, Buster Keaton and H. B. Warner to mention a few.

Yes, indeed, "Sunset Boulevard" is a show you must see.

ROTE SPOKES

As Monday last was the Labor Day holiday, Raymond Rotes did not hold their usual weekly meeting. Having nothing to report, I feel a rambling mood coming on. So—let us ramble.

Generally a post-war slump occurs about two years after the declaration of peace but this time it seems we have fooled the slump by not having any Peace.

Unparalleled Opportunity

Worker earning $10 for 8 hour's work now offered opportunity to earn same amount working 80 hours.

Would you answer this ad? If you did it would be a laugh. But wait a minute... You are being offered just this opportunity—by those who say the communist system provides more for the "average" man than our own Canadian system; and that you should think about switching systems.

In Russia, leading exponent of communism, the average worker has to work 80 hours to buy the same value of goods that a Canadian earns in one 8-hour day.

During the past 40 years we have increased our use of machine power nearly 4½ times, doubled our production, our wages were almost doubled, yet we cut about 18 hours from our work week.

Nobody denies that our system has its faults today. Prices fluctuate. Depression is not an impossibility. There is some unemployment. Manager-labor relations are not without frictions.

But the over-all truth is that the average Canadian makes more, has more, and enjoys more along with the American than any other nation's citizen under any other system, in the world. And he still retains his freedom of where to work, when to work, what to say and when to say it.

Doesn't it make sense then that we should think about how to correct the faults and to improve the system rather than talk about changing the system?

We can make our system work more productively, more smoothly more fairly than it has ever worked. All it takes is common determination and common effort freely offered—and a bit of patience.

The better we produce—the better we live.

Why Stress Attendance?

Some members attend regularly because they are interested in Rotary; some members attend because they are interested in some particular program; some members attend because they have to eat somewhere. The first objective of Rotary stresses attendance as a means of acquaintance and an avenue of friendship and fellowship. Attendance for the sake of 100% is not a true measure of Rotary interest. You are a member of a club because of your classification and you hold that classification only as long as you maintain an apparent interest most convincing. It catches the mind of the regular meetings. You are allowed 40% absence from the total number of meeting in any half-year, but, if you take those absences merely because you are allowed to, our Rotary program must be too weak to

Our Trip

There was (what I imagine) the usual group of tourists on the bus and we were all cool, distant and very detached until the driver got us on our way. Soon people began talking and chatting away like old friends and by the time we arrived at the Lake a boy of about nine had made us all realize that travel is a very good educator.

Just as we started off in the overcrowded 32 passenger launch, "Aymer" my travelling companion made a very profound statement. "That water looks wet" — bright girl, my wife, came from where we were sitting in the back of the boat we could almost look straight across the water level of the 15-mile lake that is about 500 feet deep in places and that to us landlubbers is a lot of water. There weren't enough seats so the young lad sat on the platform just "aft" of the cabin (oh, those nautical phrases). After a few minutes he fell into a travelogue with two young couples from Michigan. He again showed that he had been around and we were quite surprised to learn that he was from Calgary — thought it was only Americans who did things in such a big way. Speaking of big ways, the engagement rings these young gals were wearing would have choked an elephant, they were that big. My personal opinion is that they were phony but Roxie says maybe not. Anyway she says she still loves our little diamond so I'm happy.

There was nothing phony about that huge diamond on the hand of the older lady that sat just in front of us though. She and her husband came from down around Seattle and were the nicest old folks. They were very avid photographers and so did not have too much time to use the expensive field glasses they carried so they passed them back to us. It's wonderful how clear they brought the shore-line and even the tops of the mountains into focus. Well, those folks got what to them were priceless pictures and we enjoyed each other, the binoculars and the whole trip.

Back in Banff and off to the Cave and Basin on a tandem bike with you know who doing most of the work. The "boss" thought she was pedalling because her pedals were going 'round.

Our timing was perfect in coming out of the dressing rooms and we headed for the small pool with its water a very comfortable 88 degrees. When we went in Roxie couldn't swim but a half an hour later she was "dogging" around like a retriever. She is still a little scared of the water but she can swim.

After a relaxing stay in the pool we and the tandem bicycle headed back to town and 'cause it is mostly downhill neither of us had to work too hard.

The dinner we had at the hotel tasted good to me, flat to Roxie and it must also take the responsibility of making me sick. By the time we got to our room I was very thankful for our private bath because I spent a good deal of my time either there, heading for there or coming back from there. Poor Roxie was worried because ordinarily I'm healthy as an ox (doctors and insurance companies take note). My main medicine was loving care and a bottle of 7 Up — you like it and it likes you and I'm sure glad it does. On good thing about Wednesday night was the fact that for the first time in many moons I was asleep before it was completely dark — what a lovely rest. Roxie just reminded me of something else. In the midst of my frequent trips I couldn't keep warm so she phoned down and asked for another blanket. The desk clerk must have thought she was crazy or kidding because he didn't send one up. Anyway, I'm alive to tell the tale.

Roxie just reminded me of something else. Our juvenile friend on the boat was versed in many things because he sure didn't think that Canada was doing her share in the Korean conflict. He was talking to Americans so that may be the reason.

To get back to our tale. On Thursday morning we arose with thoughts of going back to Calgary but the day dawned clear and warmer so we delayed our departure. This was our first really nice day and our money was holding out so we were happy.

While window shopping Thursday morning we heard a familiar laugh and turned to meet Roxie's sister and her husband from Calgary who were on their way to show Lake Louise to an artist from the Old Country who has painted a beautiful mountain scene on the wall of the Mackay home in Calgary. It's fun to meet friends in strange places isn't it?

On our way to the Cave and Basin for another "swim" we stopped for a very interesting visit at the old Indian Trading Post. This is one place of real interest that many people pass up when in Banff the Beautiful and we would recommend that you make it a must on your schedule. Our only souvenir purchase was made here — a salad spoon and fork.

Our timing was not so good at the Basin this time but we still had plenty of time for my good wife to get in a small panic and put a long scratch on my neck as she clutched for a straw in three feet of water. Those hot springs are really wonders of Nature — I love 'em.

Eat, walk around, see the beauties of the mountains and go to the show, that was our program after leaving the swimming hole. The show this time in the newly renovated Lux Theatre was "The Story of Molly X", seen better and worse, the cartoon was very good though.

The wonderful gardens at the Administration grounds drew our attention right after the show and so we succumbed to their beauty and had ourselves a visit. The man who laid out the gardens, streams and waterfalls must have been a very brilliant and imaginative fellow indeed. We still haven't decided when these things looked the best, in the daylight or under the magic charm of moonlight. What is your opinion?

While in Banff we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Lin Spiller and their daughter who run the Banff weekly, The Crag and Canyon. They have a very nice paper and what wonderful surroundings. They were busy doing work for the Banff School of Fine Arts so we didn't stay too long but we were glad to make their acquaintance.

Early Friday morning (about eleven o'clock) we checked out of the hotel to start back to dear old Raymond. After a quick lunch we walked out to Beckers Cabins and waited and waited. The waiting wasn't boring though because things were going on (mostly cars to see the bears and other local things of interest). We got a good laugh out of a young couple who came by on a tandem bike (with him doing most of the work). He called her by name and she was quite highly insulted cause he used the wrong name. He was in the dog house from then on, I'll bet. At about twelve-thirty we were relieved to see a car stop and we lost no time in climbing in. A young fellow and his wife were just heading back to THE Oilfields, meaning Devon, and were going through to Calgary, with a few side trips to points of interest. Mr. Jacques recently returned from Arabia where he was employed by the Standard Oil Co. for three years. He met his wife through her brother who also worked in Arabia. Mr. Jacques told us some very interesting things about the exotic land of the Arab.

The Calgary Transit System got a little more of our money when we left the Jacques in the foothills City. It seemed kind of good to be back riding the trolleys (just for a change). After visiting with some friends on the North Hill for a little while we went to Chinatown for another fill of Chinese food and then went to visit our friends the Foxes whose suite we occupied for a year. It was supposed to be a short visit but the minutes grew into hours and finally at 11 p.m. they gave us a ride up to the Waltons where we spent another comfortable night.

On our way through Calgary before I had asked Mary to ask Don to get me a ticket for the Montreal-Calgary football game and after fruitlessly trying to contact either Mary or Don we decided to come home on Saturday but after meeting H. Dean Rolfsen, Barker and Francom Selman on the Hudson Bay Co. stairs, seeing the Jackie Robinson Story and doing a bit of business we tried to get them on the phone again and were successful. They had the ticket so I saw Royal Copeland of the Stampede make a 45-yard run to score the season's first touchdown while Roxie visited with her sister.

After seeing the thrilling game we met at Mary's with some others for a pleasant social evening. One couple and their four year old daughter had just returned from an extended trip through Eastern Canada and the U.S. At every tourist home they stopped at the father would go in and talk to the manager and after the talk was finished they would come out and stand on the steps for a minute. In that minute the young girl would call out in a very loud voice, "Is it clean and how are the beds?" It embarrassed her mother and father no end.

At a very late hour and after a delicious supper we again headed for Waltons to spend the rest of the night. Another part that should have gone before. Evelyn had asked me to take a watch in to the Peoples Credit Jewellers on my way down town on Saturday, I left the "boss" home, and as I left the store I heard one tourist say to another tourist, "There must be a nigger in the woodpile somewhere, they can't sell on credit that cheap." Not meant as a plug for P.C.J.

Sunday morning we took the bus to the Manchester loop to begin the long trip home. By the time we got to the loop there was one young lad, a family of five and the "boss" and I on the bus. Easy sailing, thought I. With only one boy and Roxie and I on the trail it would be easy to get rides. Well, the rides came fairly easy to us but that family also wanted to hitch a ride somewhere. I wonder if they ever got picked up.

An elderly couple picked the boy and Roxie and I up and after a short time we got to talking about the then threatened strike and the old gentleman told us about the first strike that was ever called in North America at Verdun, Illinois. It is really a story of murder and mayhem.

They were only going as far as High River so we stopped there for lunch and then caught a ride with a young mechanic on his way to Burdett to fix a road-building machine. He let us off at the bus station in Lethbridge cause Roxie wanted to ride in style at the end of our trip but when we found that the next bus left about nine o'clock she agreed to hitch a little further.

We took a cab out to the El Rancho and then walked down the road a piece to where Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pommen picked us up to bring us right into Raymond.

To make the story complete I would like to say that I like the Plymouth car, they stop easier on the road than any other make, we started our trip in one and ended our trip in one and so now as the polar bear cub said as he sat on an ice-flow — My tale is told.

We had a wonderful week's holiday and our travelling expenses amounted to less than three bucks for bus, trolley and taxi fare. It is a wonderful way to travel — you meet the most interesting people, and save money.

Thank you for reading "Our Trip."

Mrs. Ron Watson was made very happy recently when one of her close friends from England, Mrs. Berry and her four year old son arrived in town. She has been living in Eastern Canada for the past year but has decided to give the West a try. Mrs. Berry is presently staying with Mrs. Fontella Hawkins.

George Thompson, daughter Jackie and son Guy accompanied by Gordon McClain have returned from a holiday in Creston, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Christian and family were holidaying in Waterton this week.

Mrs. Lyle McClain has been enjoying a holiday in Calgary, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reber.

Dr. and Mrs. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Hicken enjoyed a trip to Brooks on Monday.

Welling Notes

(Faye Stringham)

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Wilde have returned from a summer vacation in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mehew have returned from Winnipeg where they attended the horse races and visited the Red River Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilde and Art Wilde have returned from Banff where they spent a few days with a group of friends from Taber.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Probert and daughter Naomi from Ruth, Nevada were here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Wilde and Evan Stringham.

Arvin Wilde, Mark and Jack Chipman spent a few days in Banff for their summer holiday.

Miss. LaVonne Peterson has returned from Utah where she has been visiting with relatives the past month.

Glen Stringham recently underwent a minor operation in a Lethbridge hospital.

Mrs. A. M. Wilde is in Taber visiting with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Peterson for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Delecta Wilde spent two weeks in Boise, Idaho with her daughter, Laree Low.

Mrs. Melba Ackroyd is on the teaching staff here this year.

Saturday morning at eight o'clock eighteen 4th Ward Junior Cleaners, under the supervision of Mrs. Beth Galbraith, with their slacks on and each with a party dress packed away, were waiting for the car that would take them for a long, full day in Wonderful Waterton — and it really was!

Many events were enjoyed and the only mishap was a cut in Colleen Harter's foot — large enough to bleed profusely but not serious enough to stop her from dancing all evening. We found out that Barbara Wing and Marilyn Taylor can really row a boat and that Connie Mehew, LaVon Robinson, Gelane Holland and Inez Christensen were too lazy to try — they preferred speed boats. We also found out that we have a really efficient mountain climbing society with Dawn Mendenhall as president and Jazelle Meeks as vice-president, although perhaps LaDean McBride should have been as she was heard to remark at the end of the climb that she was ready to go again. It is amazing how much corn on the cob, salad, sandwiches, pop and ice cream can be consumed by healthy young appetites.

Barbara Fairbanks won the prize for swinging the highest, and Shirley Allen was given a special award for finding some fellows with a motor boat to transport some helpless maidens across the lake.

Tom Mendenhall and Cyril Layne merit special praise for being such good sports — although I believe they were in their glory.

At twelve o'clock sharp all the Cinderellas were safely tucked in the cars ready to go home, with comments such as "Oh, wasn't he cute", "I didn't dance with one drip all night", "He wanted to take me home and I had to say no". However ten minutes later there wasn't a sound to be heard except for an occasional muttering or snore.

Wonderful Waterton really lived up to its name. —Contributed

When "Our Very Own" comes to town in the first part of October be sure to see it. It is really good, take it from us.

Over the week-end a group of 12 men and their wives went out to the Morris Brown farm and with the help of neighbors poured the cement for the basement of the new Brown home. Mrs. Brown, with the help of the ladies, served dinner to all.

PLEASE DO...

Clip this coupon, and send it to ST. JOHN AMBULANCE, CALGARY, with whatever you feel you can afford to help keep this good work going.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO READ THIS to know how much St. John Ambulance does to protect you and your family and your neighbors from accident and illness, and to prevent accidents, especially among industrial workers and children by teaching safety and first aid methods.

WON'T YOU SEND YOUR HELP NOW . . . WHILE YOU THINK ABOUT IT? . . . JUST WRITE YOUR NAME BELOW.

Send your contribution to
St. John Ambulance,
1807 2nd St. E., Calgary

This is only for people who want information—

St. John Ambulance has a big job to do in Alberta. For instance, in industrial plants and oilfields, more and more employees are being trained in First Aid by St. John Ambulance. . . . men ready to care for victims of accidents or illness, to save lives in emergency. St. John Ambulance is making in-home nursing in hundreds of communities across Canada . . . teaches thousands of school children . . . to make safety a habit, and to meet emergencies with knowledge. St. John Ambulance Brigade has trained personnel on hand at sporting events and public gatherings of all kinds to watch out for your safety. St. John Ambulance services are freely given without recompense, wherever they are needed. They are made possible by the donations of generous citizens who know how important to the public safety and welfare it is that these valuable services be maintained. Don't let any part of this important work be neglected for lack of this important work be needed; please give it, even though the donation you are able to give may seem small to you, and unlikely — in your opinion — to help much. Please give it . . . EVERY DONATION HELPS IMMENSELY!

Help St. John Ambulance during this campaign —
Sept. 1 to 30. Donations are deductible from income tax.

We'd rather have a small contribution than nothing at all.

Melvin King was Master of Ceremonies for the program which followed. Little Connie Dahl and Drina Allred, the Bride's niece sang "My Happiness"; Betty Hamilton recited the beautiful poem "The Bride's Prayer" with Emma Dahl playing the prelude and postlude music; Della Paxman sang "Because"; and Gen Hawkins, Melba Mehew and Evelyn Melchin harmonized on "Homework". Betty Evans added a touch of humour by telling "The Duties of Wives". She was followed by a duet consisting of Muriel Perry and Lois Heggie, "The Sunshine of Your Smile". Mrs. Stevens concluded the programme by telling two people's version of one occasion, "How I Met Your Dad" as told by the mother and "How I Met Your Mother" as told by the father. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, with the Bride and Groom leading in the first waltz.

The Bride wore a brown suit with brown and green accessories, as her going away ensemble. Her corsage was of red roses. The happy couple who travelled to Salt Lake City for their honeymoon will make their home here in Lethbridge on their return.

Out of town guests were from Lethbridge, Brooks, Rosemary, Calgary, Cardston, Wrentham, Taber, Barnwell, Stirling and Monarch.

Haas - Sommerfeldt

Mrs. Bertha Sommerfeldt of Raymond and Mr. George Haas of Medicine Hat were united in marriage on Saturday, September 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alma Sommerfeldt. Bishop Snow officiated with only immediate members of the families present.

Music Club

Mrs. Thirza Cooper, Emma Dahl and Doris Court were hostesses to the Raymond Music Club Wednesday night at the Dahl home.

The evening was pleasantly spent singing and viewing pictures taken of club members by Gen Hawkins.

A new executive was appointed for the coming year with Mrs. Madge Fairbanks as President, Mrs. Gladys Gough as Vice-President and Mrs. Nellie Duncombe as Sec.-Treas.

A vote of appreciation was tendered the outgoing executive, which included Emma Dahl, Pres., Doris Court, Vice-Pres. and Thirza Cooper, Sec.-Treas. Mrs. Laverne Anderson will continue as Musical Director with Emma Dahl as accompanist.

At the conclusion of the evening a delightful plate lunch was served by the hostesses.

The Music Club celebrated their annual picnic in August with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Salmon as hosts. Games were enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Anderson. A humorous paper was given by Mrs. David Court and a sing-song was conducted by Laverne Anderson. Camera shots were taken by Archie Terry.

Lunch included hamburgers fried on the outdoor grill, root beer and ice cream.

The newly formed Youth Organization of Raymond has been very successful since commencing in March. These meetings are held every Wednesday evening at the United Church. The programmes are made up of worship services, debates, and musical numbers, after which a tasty lunch is served by two of the members. The officers are Arnold Hudson as Pres., Pete Vanderhilt as Vice-Pres. and Doris Holgerson as Sec.-Treas.

With these officers and the cooperation of the members a very enjoyable and interesting time is well spent. We wish to acknowledge our thanks to Jack Ward of Magrath and Pete Vanderhilt who have helped make our meetings successful. If there are any more young people who wish to attend these meetings, please feel free to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. O'Brien of Lethbridge were visitors here on Monday.

BORN TO

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Heggie, a boy, September 8.

Mrs. Ted James and children of Magrath were the guests of Mrs. James' sister, Mrs. Margaret Jessop, this week.

Andrew Walton is in Calgary receiving medical care. Mrs. Walton, who spent the week-end with him reports his condition as fairly good.

Last week Velma Pillack entertained the Dave Meldrum family in honor of Bob MacBeth of Winnipeg and Eileen Dahl, a nurse in training at the Royal Alexander Hospital in Edmonton. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor and family from Magrath.

When You Receive a Bill

It is an honor to receive a bill. Instead of getting all riled up when the mail brings you a statement of account, you should be genuinely pleased. For the bill is an indication that someone has faith in your honesty.

If you never received a bill, it would indicate that your credit is worthless and that no one is willing to take your word that you will pay.

Credit is the most valuable thing a person can have. Money may be had by various means but credit comes only from years of honesty and prompt meeting of bills when due. When you pay a bill you are merely being honest.

When you receive a bill, then, meet it if you possibly can. If you can't, frankly tell your creditor why you can't. You will find him more than ready to meet you halfway.

Cherish your credit as you do your health, happiness and other priceless boons equally as rare and elusive.
